"BESHALACH" IN A NUTSHELL ...

The name of the Parshah, "Beshalach," means "When he sent" and it is found in Exodus 13:17.

Soon after allowing the children of Israel to depart from Egypt, Pharaoh chases after them to force their return, and the Israelites find themselves trapped between Pharaoh's armies and the sea. G-d tells Moses to raise his staff over the water; the sea splits to allow the Israelites to pass through, and then closes over the pursuing Egyptians. Moses and the children of Israel sing a song of praise and gratitude to G-d.

In the desert the people suffer thirst and hunger, and repeatedly complain to Moses and Aaron. G-d miraculously sweetens the bitter waters of Marah, and later has Moses bring forth water from a rock by striking it with his staff. He causes manna to rain down from the heavens before dawn each morning, and quails to appear in the Israelite camp each evening.

The children of Israel are instructed to gather a double portion of manna on Friday, as none will descend on Shabbat, the divinely decreed day of rest. Some disobey and go to gather manna on the seventh day, but find nothing. Aaron preserves a small quantity of manna in a jar, as a testimony for future generations.

In Rephidim, the people are attacked by the Amalekites, who are defeated by Moses' prayers and an army raised by Joshua.

TORAH GEMS

"Envy"

"Wrath is cruelty and anger is torrential, but who can withstand envy?" (Proverbs 27:4)

An envious person may well prefer to endure suffering as long as his fellow will also suffer, rather than enjoy good if that means that others will also prosper. This point is illustrated by the parable of a king who made an offer to two subjects, one a lustful person, and the other a jealous person.

The king said that he would fulfill any request that either of the two would make, and whatever that person received, his fellow would receive double. The lustful person was silent, because he wanted to receive double of whatever the jealous person requested.

The jealous person would not request a lavish gift because he didn't want his friend to be given double. Instead, he said to the king, "Poke out one of my eyes," thus assuring that his fellow would become blind in both eyes.

The verse warns that hatred born of envy is the worst kind of anger. Ordinarily, hot-headed people can be appeased, but the anger of envious people is incurable.

Teachers of mussar say that there is no cure for three conditions: old age, poverty caused by laziness, and hatred born of jealousy (Meiri).

Al Osten passes in Calgary

Long-time philanthropist Al Osten, who made life better for countless Albertans, has died, according to the Chevra Kadisha of Edmonton. He was 95.

Osten was born in Saskatchewan on Jan. 9, 1931 and was raised in Edmonton before moving to Calgary — but not before meeting his life-long partner, Buddy Victor.

They met in the United States as part of a doo-wop group, The Rover Boys, while Osten pursued his musical dreams and ambitions. The Rover Boys charted the hit “Graduation Day,” which was covered by The Beach Boys, before the group wound down.

While not a financial success, a call from Osten’s mother led them to bring their funds together to purchase Weight Watchers before it exploded in popularity in the 1960s. They later sold it in 2013, with Osten saying that it opened up opportunities to give back to the community.

With over 65 years together, the dream was still strong as Osten and Victor supported the arts from Broadway to Alberta — producing the original Little Shop of Horrors, investing in Hairspray and Back to the Future, and championing local performances across Calgary.

Victor died on Aug. 4, 2023, just shy of his 93rd birthday. A funeral is being held for Osten on Sunday at 3 p.m. in Edmonton.

Every Light Has Finally Returned Home

FRIENDS
CANADA

Today, we share a moment of profound relief and gratitude.

After unimaginable uncertainty, every hostage has returned home from Gaza, including the body of Ran Gvili, 24, the last to be brought back to his loved ones. This is a moment to pause, breathe, and let hope lead - a reminder that even after darkness, light can and does return.

We celebrate the strength of those who endured, the families who never stopped believing, and the countless people around the world who raised their voices, their prayers, and their hearts in solidarity.

As a community, we stand together in this moment - united by compassion, resilience, and an unwavering connection to Israel and its people.

May this homecoming bring healing, renewed strength, and hope for the days ahead.

Smashed by Isis, a 2700-year-old carving may have been the earliest-known depiction of Jerusalem

New research suggests a long-overlooked bas-relief in King Sennacherib's palace in modern-day Mosul, Iraq, destroyed with other priceless artifacts, showed the Temple Mount and Bible's King Hezekiah

For millennia, hundreds of vivid bas-reliefs adorned the walls of the Nineveh palace of the legendary eighth-century BCE Assyrian king Sennacherib, depicting daring conquests richly described in Assyrian sources and the Hebrew Bible.

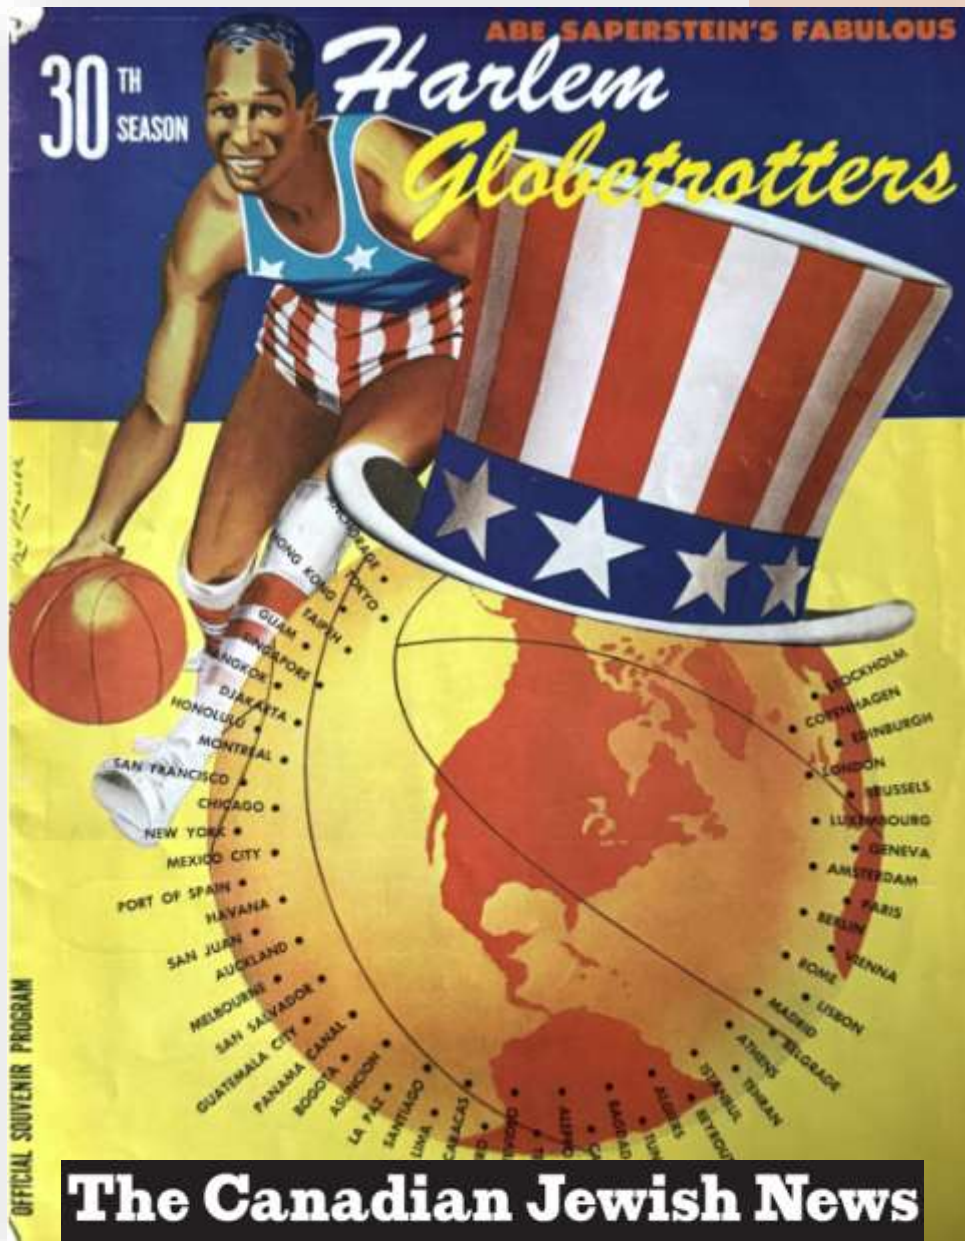

In 2016, Islamic State

terrorists entered the palace, in modern-day Mosul, Iraq, and systematically smashed the artifacts. The long-surviving sculptures had enabled modern scholars to compare biblical information on Sennacherib with historical sources and archaeological findings since the 19th century. Had they not been destroyed, they would have likely had more to offer.

The Jewish founder of the Harlem Globetrotters

As they celebrate their 100th anniversary in 2026 (with a tour that includes games in Canada), David Matlow writes about the founder of the Harlem Globetrotters, Abe Saperstein.

Saperstein not only helped integrate professional basketball, he also supported Israel and Jewish causes.

Matlow writes, “At five feet three inches tall, Saperstein is the shortest member of the Basketball Hall of Fame.

As a person who used his skills, connections and life’s work to advance race relations and support Israel and Jewish causes, he was a giant (or at least the height of a current NBA player).”

JEWISH DESSERT RECIPES

Easy Marble Cake Recipe

This 5-ingredient cake is ready in under an hour.

This recipe comes from the Rinkoff family, whose 100-year-old London family bakery is a British institution. The bakery was founded by Hyman Rinkoff, a Jewish Ukrainian immigrant, in 1911, and is now run by fourth- and fifth-generation family members. While the bakery has moved several times, it's always stayed in London's East End, where the majority of Jewish immigrants settled in the 1800s and early 1900s. Since then, most of London's Jews have moved north, into more spacious, greener suburbs, but many happily still journey to Rinkoff's for their nostalgic baked goods. Learn more about the fascinating history of Rinkoff bakery in this article.

Evolving in the 21st Century ... Jan. 21-Feb. 8
"An Iliad" presented by Shadow Theatre

AN ILIAD

BY LISA PETERSON & DENIS O'HARE

An Iliad

January 21, 2026 - February 8, 2026

Written by Lisa Peterson & Denis
O'Hare

Directed by John Hudson

AN ILIAD is a modern-day retelling of Homer's classic. Poetry and humor, the ancient tale of the Trojan War and the modern world collide in this captivating theatrical experience. The setting is simple: the empty theater. The time is now: the present moment. The lone figure onstage is a storyteller—possibly Homer, possibly one of the many bards who followed in his footsteps. He is fated to tell this story throughout history."Spellbinding...Smartly conceived and impressively executed" - The New York Times
